Application tips

Please write in clear simple English – avoid jargon

Make sure the application is fact based – with evidence to support your claims

Don't take up lots of space explaining the general issues that lie behind your work. Assume we have a basic understanding of the context in which you operate

Explain the track record of your organisation and why it is qualified to deliver the project

Ask someone who doesn't know the project to read the application to see if they understand what you are proposing

Why we turn down applications

Each year we receive hundreds of applications and whilst we consider every application carefully, it is just not possible to support every worthy cause. We have compiled this guidance in order to explain our priorities and we hope by being clearer about what we turn down this will help to reduce the wasted time and effort for those projects that don't fit our current criteria.

We appreciate the huge amount of work that goes into a making a funding application. Please check the guidance before investing your time in applying. In particular you should consider:

Does your work closely match the Foundations priorities?

What is the potential impact and reach of your work?

Can you provide information on the difference your organisation has made so far?

Can you demonstrate you have a track record to successfully deliver the project?

The Foundation is unlikely to fund

- Commercial organisations (we need to ensure your organisation works in the not-for-profit sector)

- Capital Costs including building work, renovations, refurbishment/repair and equipment
- One off Events such as a festival or the production of a play (we can support longer projects that are connected to a festival)
